

Greg Gruzdownich

My wife, Anne, and I have lived in Rancho Santa Fe 27 years and raised our children here. I am a long-term golf club member and in earlier years both my wife and daughter were avid horse riders. With degrees from MIT and Stanford, my professional career involved both large and entrepreneurial healthcare companies, including a local start-up responsible for my move to San Diego where I was the VP Marketing and later CFO. I served as an SFID director and have since lead our community's litigation effort for equitable water rates. I also served on the RSFA Finance and Infrastructure committees and belong to Los Ancianos. My interest in the RSFA Board focuses on best use of our financial and non-financial assets, funding our community assets and providing for controlled growth of additional senior housing alternatives for members wishing to downsize yet remain a part of our wonderful community.
