

Paul Seitz

Candidate for Board of Directors Rancho Santa Fe Association

Paul Seitz grew up in South Lake Tahoe, California, and joined the Marine Corps right out of high school, serving his country for eight years from 1996 to 2004. For the next eight years, he served as an overseas contractor.

He started working with and training horses in 2007, and is now the owner of an 85-year-old ranch here in Rancho Santa Fe, where he boards, trains, and shows horses. He met his wife in San Diego. They have two grown sons in college and a young daughter in elementary school.

WHY I AM RUNNING FOR THE BOARD

From its safe and social environment to its outstanding school, there was so much about RSF that drew my family to this special town. After moving here and owning the ranch, I've not only gained a valuable insight into the challenges of building and what it takes to get things done, but have also found a community where I've made lasting friendships.

As a Marine, I've led troops through the world's most dangerous places, navigating tough times and protecting those around me. As a board member, I would represent the people of RSF and both improve and streamline residents' interactions with the association while upholding the bonds that bring us together.

We've all moved to this beautiful place because we believe in what this community is and what it can be, and I will protect our community's spirit while looking for ways to improve upon existing traditions.
